Achtergrond:

"...his instrumental voice is so personal, clear, and incisive that I kept playing back his solos for the sheer pleasure of such fresh sounds of surprise" — Nat Hentoff, jazz journalist

T.K. is a musician of the highest caliber who is at the peak of his creative output. His artistry is found on over seventy recordings and has performed with a long list of great international artists. Blue has a Bachelor's degree in Music and Psychology from NYU as well as a Master's degree in Music Education from Teacher's College, Columbia University.

After several years as an adjunct professor at Suffolk Community College and Montclair State University, T.K. Blue is now the official fulltime professor and director of jazz studies at Long Island University-LIU-Post. Where he teaches individual students and several Jazz Ensembles.

In 2013 Mr. Blue composed new music for his new album entitled "A Warm Embrace". It will be his 10th as a leader and was recorded last January. It features a new composition and arrangement for flute and string ensemble.
